The summer 2020
Clark Alumni House's Garden

Every own summer has its own story.

A little bit of summer is what the whole year is all about.

— John Mayer

Sing a song of seasons; something bright in all,
flowers in the summer, fires in the fall.

– Robert Louis Stevenson

It's a smile, it's a kiss, it's a sip of wine

... it's summertime!

– Kenny Chesney

You are summer to my winter heart
– The Unknown

I love how summer just wraps its arms around you like a warm blanket.

— Kellie Elmore

We should enjoy this summer, flower by flower, as if it were to be the last one we'll see.

– Andre Gide

Life is the flower for which love is the honey
– Victor Hugo

The nature of this flower is to bloom.

— Alice Walker

In early June the world of leaf and blade and flowers explodes, and every sunset is different.

—John Steinbeck

Just living is not enough...

one must have sunshine, freedom, and a little flower.

– Hans Christian Andersen

For one to fly, one needs only to take the reins.

— Melissa James

You are so much sunshine in every square inch.

— Walt Whitman

Keep your face to the sunshine and you will never see the shadows.

— Helen Keller

Curiouser and curiouser!

— Alice in Wonderland

Every own summer has its own story.

What about you?
